

“Dissenting
Images:
Photography,
Art and Protest in Nicaragua

Round-table discussion on the current crisis in Nicaragua from the prism of the visual.

Tuesday, March 26, 6:00-8:00PM
Institute of Latin American Studies (ILAS)
Room 243, 2nd Floor of the Senate House
Malet St, London WC1E 7HU

The event brings together scholars from a range of fields, and is organised to accompany the exhibition “Glances of Resistance” at the Institute of Latin American Studies (ILAS), Senate House Library (March 18-30), with the support of the European Research Council (ERC) as a part of the project “Citizens of Photography: The Camera and the Political Imagination” at UCL Anthropology.

Participants

[REDACTED]

Helen Dixon

British Nicaraguan feminist writer, lecturer/facilitator at the Institute for Development Studies and Research Associate in Global Studies at the University of Sussex, PhD candidate at the University of Brighton

Dr. Hilary Francis

Vice Chancellor’s Research Fellow, Northumbria University, historian of Nicaragua and US-Nicaraguan relations

Carlos F. Grigsby

Nicaraguan poet and scholar, columnist for Confidencial Nicaragua, DPhil candidate in Medieval and Modern Languages at Oxford University

Dr. Anna Marazuela Kim

Art Historian, Cultural Theorist, former solidarity worker in Nicaragua

Moderator

Dr. Ileana L. Selejan

Associate Researcher, Department of Anthropology UCL